CONDITIONS UNDER WHICH THESE BENEFITS ARE NOT PAYABLE

This insurance benefit is not payable for any month in which you are under age 75 and you work for wages of more than $50.00 in employment that is covered by the Social Security Act. This does not mean that because you are entitled to monthly benefits you may not work, but simply that for those months when you do work and earn more than $50.00 you will not be eligible to receive a benefit payment.

Notice of the occurrence of such employment must be sent to the Social Security Administration promptly, or certain penalties as provided by the Social Security Act may be imposed. A postal card which may be used to notify the Social Security Administration was given to you when you filed your claim.

If you receive an insurance benefit check for a month in which you have worked for wages of more than $50.00 in employment that is covered by the Social Security Act, you should return the check to the—

Treasury Department, Division of Disbursement located in the city shown on the face of your check

This insurance benefit, also, is not payable for one or more months if you, while under age 75, do substantial work as a self-employed person (whether as sole owner or partner) in a trade or business covered by the Social Security Act and have net earnings from self-employment which average more than $50.00 a month for the taxable year.

You should report to the Social Security Administration any month in which you work as a self-employed person in a trade or business if you are under age 75 and if you expect your net earnings from self-employment will average more than $50.00 a month for the taxable year. This will avoid loss of benefits at a later date when you are no longer self-employed.

An annual report must be filed with the Social Security Administration within 2½ months after the end of the taxable year in which you have net earnings from self-employment averaging more than $50.00 a month, or certain penalties provided by the Social Security Act may be imposed.

At age 75 or over your benefits are payable regardless of whether you work in employment or self-employment and regardless of the amount of your earnings.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Notify the Social Security Administration and your local post office immediately of any change of address so that your monthly insurance benefit checks will not be delayed. A postal card which may be used to notify the Social Security Administration was given to you when you filed your claim.

RECONSIDERATION OR HEARING

A claimant for old-age and survivors insurance benefits has a right to a reconsideration or hearing if he does not agree with the decision on his claim. A request for a reconsideration or hearing should be made promptly, not later than 6 months from the date of this certificate, and should be made through the local field office of the Social Security Administration.

RECALCULATION OF BENEFITS

The amount of your monthly benefit may be refigured if you return to work for at least 12 months in a 36-month period after your entitlement, and you earn 6 quarters of coverage after 1950, and your additional earnings are high enough to increase your benefit.

CONSULT THE FIELD OFFICE SHOWN ON THE FACE OF THIS CERTIFICATE, OR ANY OTHER FIELD OFFICE OF THE SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION, IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS CONCERNING YOUR CLAIM.

ALWAYS GIVE CLAIM NUMBER WHEN WRITING ABOUT YOUR CLAIM

Rich, Red Blood

Is necessary to perfect health, and the changes of seasons often cause a feeling of languor and lassitude, showing that nature should be assisted. SWIFT'S SPECIFIC is the special remedy when the system is changing from the full habit of the winter to the lighter diet of the warmer months. Nothing is so effectual to cleanse out the blood and tone up the human organism. Being purely vegetable it is harmless, and builds up the strength and appetite from the first dose. Send for our book on the blood.

FOR THE SPRING MONTHS

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

GAINED 18 POUNDS.

"I consider S.S.S. the best tonic in the market. I took it for broken health, and gained eighteen pounds in three weeks. My appetite and strength were restored, and I was made a new man. WM. GERLOCK, Belleville, Ohio."

"I take pleasure in recommending SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S.S.S.) as a blood purifier and general tonic. It has no equal for toning up the system, purifying the blood, and bracing up the flagging energies in the spring. Three bottles of this wonderful medicine made a new man of me. JOHN L. HUFF, Girard, Ill."

MAKES A MAN OF HIM.

"I consider SWIFT'S SPECIFIC (S.S.S.) the best tonic and invigorator I ever saw. Whenever my blood is sluggish and I feel depressed, I take a bottle of this great remedy and it builds me right up and makes a man of me. It is by all odds the best tonic, appetizer and general strengthener on the market to-day, and I take pleasure in recommending it. W. J. CONRAD, Dunreath, Ind."

"AN GIT ME A BOTTLE ER —."

"I'll go 'long twel I come ter de rank crab-grass, an' den I'll 'low ter mysef'—'Hey! what all dish here grass doin' here? Look like somebody done plant sumpin' here an' den gone off an' lef' um', den, bimeby, I'll see sumpin' n'er in de grass dat look roun' an' green an' slick, wid little draps er dew on it des like glass beads. Den I'll stop an' hol' up my hans' an' say—'Whoever is see de beat er dat? Man come 'long an' plant big watermillion patch, an' den go off an' lef' um'. Den I'll sorter poke roun' in de grass wid my cane tell I come 'cross a great big million wid streaks on 'im like rattlesnake, an' den I'll thump 'er an' if she holler back at me like she full, I'll set down right flat er de groun', and bus' 'er wid my fist."

The listening negro moved a little nearer.

"Yasser," continued Uncle Balaam, "dat des what I'd do. I wouldn't be grievin' kaze I ain't got no comp'ny, but ef dey wuz anybody settin' off in de grass watchin' me, dey'd see a sight, man."

The Twenty-Third Psalm

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil:
for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies:
thou anointest my head with oil;
my cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow
me all the days of my life:
and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For though from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar...

The Eternal Goodness

I know not what the future hath
Of marvel or surprise;
Assured alone that life and death
His mercy underlies.

And if my heart and flesh are weak
To bear an untried pain,
The bruised reed He will not break,
But strengthen and sustain.

And so, beside the silent sea,
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from Him can come to me
On ocean or on shore.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care ....

Transition

So live that when thy summons comes to join
The innumerable caravan, which moves
To that mysterious realm where each shall take
His chamber in the silent halls of death,
Thou go not like the quarry slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed
By an unfaltering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the draperies of his couch
About him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

Resignation

There is no flock, however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb is there!
There is no fireside, howsoe'er defended,
But has one vacant chair!

Let us be patient! These severe afflictions
Not from the ground arise,
But oftentimes Celestial benedictions
Assume this dark disquise.

We see but dimly through the mists and vapors;
Amid these earthly damps
What seem to us but sad, funereal tapers,
May be heaven's distant lamps.

There is no Death! What seems so is transition;
This life of mortal breath
Is but a suburb of the life elysian
Whose portal we call Death.

Memorial

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

-Power Nuclear Test Treaty Inked

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union agreed in a treaty initialed Thursday to end nuclear testing in the atmosphere, outer space and under water. They immediately hailed their unprecedented accord as a major breakthrough toward easing cold war tensions.

The treaty goes into effect as soon as it is ratified. In the U.S. that requires a two-thirds majority vote of the Senate.

In the agreement, climaxing arduous negotiations almost as old as the atomic age itself, the three powers also affirmed their determination to continue striving for a complete ban on nuclear testing and implied they will give no nuclear aid to nations that do not go along.

The Big Three foreign ministers —America's Dean Rusk, Britain's Lord Home and Russia's Andrei Gromyko — will sign the treaty in Moscow in the near future, a communique said.

Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, who led the U.S. team through the 10 Moscow sessions leading to agreement, initialed the draft in a simple ceremony with Gromyko and Britain's chief negotiator, Science Minister Lord Hailsham.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Kennedy administration campaign to win approval of a nuclear test ban treaty with the Soviets swung into high gear Thursday after initialing of the proposed pact at Moscow.

The White House announced that President Kennedy will report to the nation on radio and television Friday at 5 p.m., (Hutchinson time) on the two weeks of negotiations at the Soviets capital just concluded.

The administration figures on considerable debate in the Senate, which must ratify the treaty by a two-thirds majority, for it to become effective. But they predicted enough senators would vote for it.

It was evident from the negotiators' comments, the treaty itself and the communique that the partial test ban, if effected, is envisioned as merely the opening round of a series of East-West negotiations on a number of out-

Saffels Rattles Skeleton

By DON KENDALL

Dale Saffels rode out of the west Thursday night looking for political dragons to battle, but his talk here at a Reno County Democratic Club rally brought mainly the din of old skeleton bones rattling in the summer breeze.

The Garden Citian, former state representative and Democratic candidate for governor last year, called for an investigation of plans to relocate U.S 69 on land owned by George Gagel, a state highway commissioner and an appointee of Gov. John Anderson, who defeated Saffels at the polls last fall.

Saffels said Anderson had promised an investigation of the Gagel affair but apparently there has been none.

"I hope that responsible leaders of the judicial or legislative branch of our state government will fully investigate this matter in order to protect the interests of our state and nation," Saffels said.

The Finney Countian noted that Anderson had appointed Gagel to the Kansas Turnpike Authority and to the State Highway Commission, with Gagel shifting to

"I hope that responsible leaders of the judicial or legislative branch of our state government will fully investigate this matter in order to protect the interests of our state and nation," Saffels said.

The Finney Countian noted that Anderson had appointed Gagel to the Kansas Turnpike Authority and to the State Highway Commission, with Gagel shifting to the latter job in April of last year.

Saffels

"A few days later, according to the records of Johnson County," Saffels said, "he purchased some real estate along which the Highway Commission, with federal participation, intended to locate U.S. 69.

"Recently, the Highway Commission announced it was going ahead with the project along Gagel's land and the county commissioners would be the judge of the price.

"The thing that Mr.Gagel hopes that Kansans will overlook, is the fact he has, after receiving information through confidential sources as a highway and turnpike executive, purchased land for resale to the state. He then helped complete the fixing of the location of this important highway."

Saffels also needled Anderson—whose political future is presently as cloudy as Saffels—for the recent revamping of the old Kansas Industrial Development Commission.

"Our present Republican governor did not support the KIDC but reorganized the department under a new name with some new functions."

Saffels said in Anderson's campaign last year he claimed he was the only candidate who could work with the Legislature because of politics.

"I think that it is now known to all that his statements on this subject were ridiculous. Kansas has never had a legislature with more experience and has never had more difficulties in enacting legislation in its history . . .

"If his relations with the legislature are so good, what happened to the legislation on Foundation Finance Plan for Education, Educational Television, Combination of Funds, highways and penal reform?"

It was evident from the negotiators' comments, the treaty itself and the communique that the partial test ban, if effected, is envisioned as merely the opening round of a series of East-West negotiations on a number of outstanding issues.

With notable exceptions, leaders of East and West hailed the Moscow announcement as a step on the road to peace.

But in Paris, President Charles de Gaulle's government reaffirmed that it would not be bound by the agreement in its efforts to make France an independent nuclear power.

Communist China, striving to enter the nuclear club, had denounced the treaty in advance.

While other countries are invited to sign the treaty, there is a provision for Russia, the United States and Britain to exercise a veto in event of any effort by other signers to amend the treaty in a way they do not like.

Moreover, in case one of the participants suspects there has been a violation, it can withdraw from the treaty on three months' notice and begin its own testing again if it feels its security is threatened.

Bored in City, He Farms on Crutches

By WAYNE LEE
News District Editor

KINGMAN — "I can't say there was anything wrong with city life. I was just idle," said Glen W. Mohr, Kingman farmer, while leaning on his battered crutches.

He isn't idle now. Although every step he takes is punctuated with pain, he farms 820 acres.

Fifteen years ago Glen was stricken with arthritis.

"I couldn't even feed myself."

But he kept his farming interests going by hiring workers, even while he was suffering heavy attacks and was under sedation most of the time.

Glen, born and raised near Hutchinson, farmed a mile north of Whiteside Elevator from 1930 until 1936 when he moved to a farm west of Kingman. He also had a shop, where he made "all kinds of things."

He thought all that was over with when arthritis struck.

After the heaviest attacks had subsided, Glen beat it back out to his farm and started to work again, although both legs were heavily affected.

Then in 1954:

"I had so much trouble with my right leg that my wife said I looked like a jack rabbit draggin' a broken leg," he said.

He and his wife kept on farming, although the leg got worse with every year. in 1956 they moved into Kingman.

Tired of Idleness

But Glen is a farmer, first and foremost. He was listless and "idle" in town and he and the wife decided to do something about it.

They drew up the plans for a house and then built it, two miles east of Kingman.

"We're both real proud of it. It's built flat on the ground, and that sure has helped me," Glen said.

While in the hospital the doctor shortened his right leg and placed a pin in it. His left leg has been getting progressively worse; he feels it will be due for an operation in the near future.

The legs, painful as they have been, haven't stopped Glen from participating in his farm operation — although there have been a few hitches.

He can drive every piece of equipment on his farm.

"Sometimes it keeps me busy . . . you know when you've got to work the throttle, the hand brakes, the steering and the equipment all at the same time with only two hands it makes things a little harder on you," Glen said with a grin.

He and Mrs. Mohr pondered a long time before coming up with the design for getting him into the saddle on his combine. They traded the old one in last year and attached their invention to the new one.

Motorized Lift

Glen steps on the combine ladder and presses a button. An electric engine whirrs the ladder up to the platform and Glen places his crutches in a special rack. Seated, half standing, he works the combine with his hands.

"The ladder has an up and down switch so it doesn't dig into the ground. . . I never tear up my machinery to the point where someone else can't use it," he explained.

The Mohrs hire very little of their farm work done.

"I'm fortunate to have a wife that can do anything," he said with a smiling glance at Mrs. Mohr, "If I didn't have her help I couldn't do any of this."

Mrs. Mohr is a clock - watcher when Glen's in the field, and doesn't mind admitting it. There have been several times, when he got stuck or ran out of gas, that Mrs. Mohr has driven to the field to get him.

"And lots of times when I don't need any help," her husband added with a smile.

Not Easy

Crutches aren't the easiest thing in the world to farm on, Glen admits.

"I've forgotten them several times and 'crunch' — over them I'd drive," he said.

Inside the house, at the back doorway entrance, a pair of new crutches hangs on a nail. When Glen enters, he trades his old ones for the new pair.

"These are the dressy ones," Mrs. Mohr said.

"This is one of the reasons we like this place. Just look out that front window . . . ever seen such a view?" he nodded toward his Kansas farm field.

"Farming is a wonderful job, if we just had less government control and more freedom to do as we please," Glen commented. "Everything we have the good Lord has blessed us with."

WICHITA— Martin Tucker, out of the Army just one month, was shot to death at a Wichita service station Thursday night.

Tucker, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tucker Jr. of Hudson, worked at the station on Wichita's suburban west side two years before he entered the service.

The station owner, James T. Harshbarger, 32, returned after taking a customer home and found Tucker's body in a back room. He had been shot in the head with a small caliber weapon.

No witnesses to the shooting were found.

The cash register had been emptied. Harshbarger estimated it had contained $175.

NESS CITY — Mrs. Mable Hoss is the new postmaster here.

Her nomination by President Kennedy was confirmed Thursday by the Senate, along with nine other Kansas nominations.

But for Mrs. Hoss it has been a rougher confirmation than most.

Some time in February or March (the exact date was never released), Leo Gabel, a city carrier at the Ness City post office, sent a telegram to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and blocked Mrs. Hoss's confirmation. Mrs. Hoss, acting postmaster, had taken the post-
